The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

J. Edgar Hoover Strikes Back – Hooray!

One of the tactical blunders made by Presidential Candidate Senator Eugene McCarthy, was his blast at J. Edgar Hoover.

McCarthy inferred, as he opened his campaign, that the FBI chief was approaching senility and that he was running a one-man show, giving cooperation only as he wished. Hoover would be replaced as FBI chief when he became president, McCarthy added.

Granted, Hoover is getting older (and who isn't?). But attacking J. Edgar Hoover is like attacking God, motherhood, kids and dogs—and the Star Spangled Banner.

What would cause an intelligent gent like McCarthy to single out this bedrock of patriotism and morality?

The answer comes up clearer now as rumors persist that President Johnson, who encouraged Supreme Court Justice Earl Warren to retire so that he could name Abe Fortas his successor, also has the determination to handpick a replacemen to head the FBI.

You will recall that McCarthy announuced his candidacy before Johnson announced that he would not seek re-election. It may have been that LBJ urged McCarthy to run, tipping him off to the fact that he would not be a candidate.

McCarthy, with a head start, could dampen the chances of Sen. Robert Kennedy should he desire to run, LBJ must have logicalized

Using McCarthy as a hatchet man, LBJ could also test the reaction to replacing J. Edgar Hoover. Besides Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was a cinch to get the Democratic nomination.

Several things were thus being accomplished. He was already picking a replacement for Supreme Court Justice Earl Warren—planning to reduce the age average of the Court so that his programs could be kept alive by judicial decision. If he was successful in replacing J. Edgar Hoover with a pigeon on whom White House politicians could hold their collective thumb, it would be healthier for many politicians and White House pinkos. It may also mean that it will be the signal to transfer by propaganda, some of the FBI's believability to the kooky CIA.

It seemed strange when McCarthy announced his candidacy that LBJ didn't give him the same supercillious treatment he was to give Senator Robert Kennedy. Proof of some agreement is that Kennedy became furious when McCarthy announced. LBJ's tipoff gave McCarthy a chance to get out and get all of his ducks lined up—leaving nothing but feathers for Kennedy.

It would appear that these things would cinch the Democratic nomination for Vice President H. H. Humphrey, whom the President probably had in mind for his successor all the time. McCarthy has run a lack-luster race, one which permitted Kennedy to close the gap at Los Angeles—until he was felled by an assassin.

Now it looks like HHH all the way.

But J. Edgar Hoover is not one to be attacked with impugnity.

He struck back. He gave his reply to McCarthy's low opinion of him in the July issue of the monthly publication of the bureau, "The FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin."

While the Bulletin doesn't have a general public circulation, Hoover, no doubt, was aware that the press receives it and he must have counted on some newspapers reproducing it. His logic must have been that he could not answer a major presidential candidate in public debate—that is beneath the dignity of this fine office—and we wish the politicians had the same sensitivity.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has never been one lacking for words. He pulled out some of his choice ones for his answer to politician McCarthy.

"It has been alleged by a prominent candidate for the Presidency of the United States that the FBI under my leadership operates autonomously and without proper control.

This charge, of course, is not true, and it denotes either a contrived effort to mislead the public or a woeful lack of knowledge of our governmental system of "checks and balances."

"As most informed citizens know, there are definite limitations upon the FBI, its authority and its operations, all of which I consider most essential and which the FBI has meticulously honored over the years.

First of all, the FBI, as the investigative arm of the Department of Justice, is directly answerable to the Attorney General. He is promptly and fully informed on all aspects of this Bureau's activities. Our administrative and investigative operations are subject to his control.

"Further, the Bureau of the Budget keeps close tabs on the FBI just as it does on other Federal agencies, and we must justify and account for every cent of our appropriations.

Likewise, the General Accounting Office reviews and audits our expenditures. FBI operations and investigations come under close scrutiny of the House and Senate appropriations Committees.

They study our requests for appropriations and know exactly where, when, and how the FBI uses its allotted funds in the discharge of its duties to serve the public. In addition Congress exercises control over the scope of FBI authority.

"With the exception of a few Presidential directives and instructions issued by the Attorney General, laws passed by Congress are the sole source for FBI authority and jurisdiction.

"Despite what may have been implied, the FBI does not serve as 'police, court, and jury." When this Bureau investigates an alleged violation of a Federal law within its jurisdiction, the facts are presented to a United States Attorney without comment or recommendation.

"He determines whether the matter will be prosecuted. In cases brought to trial, the Federal courts and juries have a firsthand opportunity to judge if the FBI has met its obligations with proper regard for the constitutional rights of the accused and all other parties involved.

"Where convictions result and are appealed, this critical review continues on to the highest courts of the land.

"And finally, FBI operations are under constant scrutiny of the news media and the public. In our free society, where freedom of the press is not only cherished but practiced, the alert and inquiring press upholds the right of the public to know and to be informed. Therefore, considering this array of control points and limitations, charges that the FBI operates autonomously are utterly ridiculous.

Now, if there are those who disagree with the FBI policy of vigorous enforcement of the law, protection of law-abiding citizens, preservation of the rights of all people, proper

LG Business Expansion Continues

SATELLITE APPROACH: You've heard of ground breakings, ribbon cuttings, and bulldozing — now from Lemon Grove comes America's first grassburning.
The ceremonies signal the official launching of a ten acre satellite shopping development at College Avenue and Federal blvd.

Satellite Center Construction

by Jack Pollard

Business expansion continues to move in Lemon Grove. Plans for a ten acre satellite shopping development at College ave. and Federal blvd. have been announced and work is now geting underway.

The Harbor Management Corporation of La Mesa is developing the site at an expected cost of ore than $1,550,000.

According to Ben Polak, spokesman for Harbor, Coldwell, Banker and Company's, Robin Dean and Paul Petit, Jr., represented both buyers and sellers in the land transaction.

Sellers were John Holt, Marjorie McClurkin and Sonka Trust.

Currently listed to take part in the program are Gulf Oil Company, United Rental and Dorman's Tires as tenants.

Other occupants will include key restaurant operators along with specialty shops to round out the services that will be offered to the community.

The largest ice skating rink west of Chicago, larger than the Sports Arena, will be built next to the Bowlero Bowl as part of the new center.

The rink, named "Winter Gardens" will take up 20,000 square feet of spase. It will seat 2,000 persons indoors.

It will be managed by Bob Heaton, current owner-manager of the Mission Valley ice rink. Principal partner in the operation will be Harold Gilbert.

Gilber, of Los Angeles, is owner of a rink at Culver City. Plans also include a restaurant and cocktail lounge inside the building.

The shopping facility is being designed to accomodate the future southwest extension of College ave. to connecct with Imperial ave. The extension will go for some 150 feet.

A Harbor spokesman said that the sites are expected to be completed as soon as tennants have contracted for spaces.

The total project is expected to be completed within two years.

A Harbor official said, "The satellite is in an area that has a good deal of traffic passing by. Lemon Grove, as a highly populated area has had to leave the community to shop at any of the large centers."

Other Expansion

The major business expansion began to show in May when Red Harris announced that he was expanding his business. He moved to 7702 Broadway.

In a parallel m ove, the Tri City Teevee at 7769 Broadway expanded into the location vacated by Western Auto.

Tri City is owned by Clifff Clark. The new facility contains an expanded line of appliances and televisions.

During the same month, Food Basket reopened its doors with a completely rebuilt store. In addition to the rebuilding, modernization with an enlarged discount center was made.

Earlier this month, Len Farness, owner of Brumley's Shoes at 7763 Broadway said that he had acquired the store at 7765 Broadway and would use it in an expansion program.

His new store will be opened Sept. 1. It will house a full line of haberdashery and men's wear. His shoe store and the men's wear store, will operate jointly with an archway opened between them.

Al Woods, manager of the Lemon Grove Bank of America, said, "There are many evidences of progress coming to Lemon Grove.

"The vacant store factor is now practically nil. It was quite high a few years ago.

"The need for housing is showing a definite shortage. Realtors have been crying for listings. Other indicators are from apartment houses construction that is going on in the area.

"Banking has been extremely high. We are at an all time high here at our bank in Lemon Grove.

Joyce Foss, secretary at the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce, said that activity there has picked up. Housing inforation requests along with business directories have been on the increase.

Supervisor Robert C. Dent said that "With the opening of such business establishments as Camperland and the Bob Bauer Plymouth agency shows the development that is taking place here.

"It is a vital necessity that Lemon Grove gets some of the expansion growth that is going on throughout the County.

"In the metropolitan area, Lemon Grove is the center geographically. It is the hub of La Mesa, National City, Chula Vist and El Cajon.

"The interest in multiple dwellings has increased greatly in the last year, which means more population, a greater tax base and an upgrading of the community.

Sex Education Program Dropped

The La Mesa-Spring Valley School District Board of Education received a recommendation from Glenn Murdock, superintendent of schools for the board to drop the proposed family life and sex education program.

The Board of Education ordered the program abandoned at the Monday night meeting.

Murdock, in a statement to the Board said that the discontinuance of any further consideration of the tentative Family Life and Sex Education should be made.

Murdock recommended that the development of a program of Family Life and Sex Education be left in the hands of the Citizens Steering Committee.

The committee which consists of members of the Board of Education, the clergy, the medical profession, the Parent-Teacher - Association, the Chambers of Commerce, and youth organizations has been asked to make recommendations to the Board in the future.

The committee had been asked to determine community opinion, and consult with the leaders in the field of sex education. They also made their recommendations to the Board and the staff.

Murdock said that the perious Family Life and Sex Education program, which has been in effect since 1956 and with which most parents have been long familiar, will continue to be offered during the coming school year.

Teacchers will also be guided by the content in the State textbooks and County guides already adopted by the District.

"The 'outline', Sex Education K-8, adopted in 1966 which established the District's position on this topic, has been deleted from the 1968-69 District Course of Study," the superintendent said.

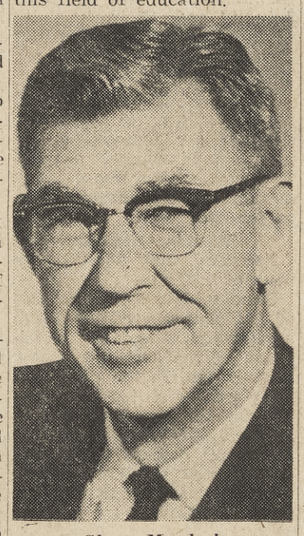

The program has meen criticized by many parents because of the extensive coverage of sex and the frank materials that would be introduced in the lower grades and in kindergarten.

Peter C. Doyle, member of the Board of Education, and a member of the Steering Committee said, "It is my hope that we will now be given the freedom to go ahead with the development of a program that will meet the requuirements of everyone.

"We hope that enough parents will come forward to help us with this. There are many people in favor of the program.

"It is not only sex that we are concerned with, but the fact that students must learn to get along with other people in life, as parents in the future, and as responsible citizens.

"Unfortunately some parents have been very lax in this field of education.

Glenn Murdock

The committee is slated to meet on Sept. 18 at 1 p.m. Mrs. Lenard Ruth said that it is her desire to get members of the Parents Teachcers Association to take part in the development of the program.

The Steering committee is made up of Peter C. Doyle, Rev. Thomas L. Goble, Dr. F. E. Hornbrook, Rev. Robert Kesler, Dr. William A. Leovey, Mrs. Lloyd Myking, Larry Oviatt, Mrs. Lenard Ruth and Mrs. Dewey Stewart.

Teenager Killed In Crash

Cheryl Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brown, 456 Broadview ave. was fatally injured in an auto ccrash late Friday night.

The 17-year-old girl was dead on arrival at Grossmont Hospital as the result of the 11:45 p.m. accident. She was ejected from a station which hit a block wall on Sweetwater rd.

California Highway officials said that the stationwagon in whicch she was a passenger, was moving southbouund on Sweetwater rd., when they came upon a car parked in the driving lane without any lights on.

The driver of the stationwagon, Richard Fox, 17 of 1720 Dayton dr., Lemon Grove hit the brakes. The car spun out of control, and overturned ejecting the three occupants of thhe vehicle. It then rammed into a block wall.

A second passenger, Donna Roth, 15 of 9035 Frederick st., Spring Valley and Fox both received minor injuries the CHP reported.

Fire Chiefs Schedule Supervisors Meeting

Fire Chiefs Frank Burger of Spring Valley and H. L. Hensley of Lemon Grove have been requested to meet with Supervisors Robert C. Dent and Robert C. Cozens at the County headquarters on July 30 at 9:30 a.m. to discuss a mutual aid communication program.

County fire chiefs are expected to be on hand with the local representatives as they discuss the problems of financing the program.

Dent said, "We are going to have a problem in finding out what type of equipment will be needed and what is going to have to be done as far as competitive bids for equipment and maintenance is concerned.

"There is no doubt in our minds that we need a program of this type. We are going to have to decide on how to split the County up into fire districts for the program."

Locally, Lemon Grove and Spring Valley take part in the Heartland Mutual Aid program which includes Lakeside, Santee, El Cajon and La Mesa.

The program, which has been in effect for slightly over one year has been a success but officials feel that is could move smoother if a common comunications link could be set up.

"There is a tremendous pool of fire fighting and rescue equipment available within San Diego County, and outside assistance from other sections of California is available as well as aid from other states and military installations.

Fire cheifs throughout the county are in agreement to setting up a common communications link that can place all units from any county area at a fire anywhere in the county on the same radio frequency so that directions can be given in order to help combat the fire.

Fire Chief Clarence L. Gish, president of the County Fire Chief's Association said that "If there is one major flaw in the County of San Diego, concerning the safety of its citizens, it is the lack of preparedness within the overall fire protecction picture."

"We feel that plans should be prepared to insure that succh a valuable investment is utilized in the most efficient manner possicle. This, we maintain, is the obligation ingovernment.

cumbent upon a county-wide

"The County government may wissh to assume the role of a regional "catalyst", not imposing its will upon any. But, when the time is right, and public uproar is at its peak, machinery is usually set into motion to solve even the greatest of problems.

"However, this is one occasion when circumstances dictate an alternate and more direct approach. The enviable attitude of the "catalyst" is not appropriate in this case, and bold leadership must take its place. The time is right, and I am afraid you have heard about all the public uproar to be expected. The problem is now yours, as well as ours.

The chief told the supervisors that if they want to correct the most outstanding deficiency in the management of this County, it will have to guide local units into the major elements of a binding agreement, a specific plan and a radio communication system.

The county fire chiefs had taken the matter to the Board of Supervisors prior to now but a letter sent to the Board by F. H. Gifford charged the County of San Diego with competing with private enterprise because of its offer to assist in purchasing and maintaining the proposed radio system.

The meeting that will be held July 30 will give all agencies a chance to stand up and be counted in the mutual aid agreement and fire radio network proposal.

Recently the chiefs of the Heartland Mutual Aid pact held a conference in whichc they discussed the success of the program here.

They were in agreement that they have been able to hold off any major disaster to date succh as the great Poway fire that burnt hundreds of acres of land last summer.

Petition Movement Started

A move is underway that may see the development of the Sweetwater Reservoir property into a regional park and recreational facility.

County residents are petitioning the San Diego County Board of Supervisors to develop the area. The petition gave the following reasons for urgent action:

1) The areas generally designated as South Bay and East County are presently without a major recreational faciclity to serve a rapidly expanding population.

2) The Sweetwater Reservoir area is abundantly endowed with natural terrain and characteristics suited for such a development.

3) Because of these natural endowments, it can be developed at minimal costs.

4) Reccreational development will be complimentary to the basic function of the Reservois and will not inhibit present uses.

5) Its strategic location with respect to major freeways presently existing or scheduled will greatly enhance this project's accessibility, thereby assuring acceptability and use by the people living in the East County, South Bay areas, and a large segment of the City of San Diego.

Summer Theatre Workshop Presents Dialogue-Musical

If it's dancing you like, the best way to "keep in step" with some great choreography is to see "Annie Get Your Gun", which will be appearing at Russ Auditorium on July 29, 30, 31 and August 1 at 8:15 p.m.

Sponsored by the Summer Theatre Arts Workshop, this program not only includes dialogue and musical numbers, but also many detailed routines.

The choreography is under the supervision of Trina Grieg, assisted by Mike Phillips. Some 35-talented toe-tappers have banded together to form some outstanding numbers.

The first is the "Bad, Bad Man Ballet", which follows the scene in which the leading man Frank Butler, who is played by Jan Hagan, professes to the ladies that he is quite a swinger with the girls.

Two other main characters, Winnie and Tommy, teenagers in Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show, do several dances in the production—among them are "Who Do You Love I Hope" and I'll Share It All With You". Hal Grieg and Ingrid Skoff play the parts of the two young lovers in these spirited dances.

Later Hal shows his talents again, by performing the "Lone Eagle Dance" in an Indian scene, when Annie Oakley is inducted into the Sioux tribe. Annie, portrayed by Robin Johnson, will also do a dance number during this phase of the show.

The dance which takes place in the ballroom of an expensive New York hotel shows all the poise and high class of the wealthy people of the day as they dance the box step to the tune of a gay waltz.

The dance with the most continuity is the "Wild West Ballet", which involves sharpshooters, can-can dancers, acrobats and jugglers, along with all the characters involved in Cody's "Great Train Robbery", one of the best attractions in his production.

JUST IN TIME — A group of Lemon Grove businessmen meet with the new minister of the Lemon Grove Methodist Church to discuss his "just in time" project. After just two services the church's sanctuary at Washington and Golden is reaching attendance capacity. The sanctuary, just completed, was first thought to be too ambitious an undertaking. However, two services will have to be held soon to accommodate record attendance. The growth will diminish financial pressure on the church, Mr. Warmer said.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

Among the most interesting modes of speech are the idioms. Some of them would have no meaing at all if they were translated literally. Others have very humorous connotations. For example, if he were to translate the phrase, "killing time," in a literal sense we would say "matando el tiempo." However, if we were in Costa Rica, we could say "matando la culebra" which is idiomatically the same as "killing time." It may be that killing snakes is a way of "killing time" in Costa Rica. Sounds like a risky way to "kill time."

Another interesting idiom of Costa Rica is a very popular one in the United States. It is "showing off." If this expression were translated literally in Spanish it would be "demonstrando." However, it is expressed by our "Tico" friends as "hacer la pelicula" which literally means "to make a picture." It might be that the "show-offs" in any country are the ones who think of themselves as "making a picture" when they appear in public. But can you imagine making the remark to a friend, "Look at that guy, he is making a picture." The reaction might not be considered as derogatory as "Hey, look at the show off."

The expression "En otros terminos" is another good example of an idiom used in Spanish-speaking countries. It would be best translated as "in other words." You will notice that "terminos" (terms) was translated as "words" to clarify the meaning of the idiom.

These practice phrases have several idioms. Read them over and try to improve your pronunciation of them by listening to and repeating them with the auomatic recording when you udial 276-2762 on your telephone.

IMPORTANT PHRASES

Say "En otros terminos." (ehn OH-trohs TEHR-mee-nohs) for "In other words."

Say "Estoy matando la culebra." (eh-STOH-ee mah-TAHN-doh lah koo-LEH-brah) for "I am killing time."

USEFUL PHRASES

Say "El esta haciendo la pelicula." (ehl eh-STAH ah-see-EHN-doh lah peh-lee-koo-lah) for "He is showing off."

Say "Ya lo vemos." (yah loh VEHmohs) for "Now see him."

OTHER PHRASES

Say "Porque es asi?" (pohr-keh ehs ah SEE) for "Why is (it) that way?"

Say "Quien sabe?" (kee-EHN SAH-beb) for "Who knows?"

Rocky Moves For Bid

At the mid-point of his campaign for the Republican Presidential nomination, Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller last week renewed his challenge to Richard M. Nixon for a nationally televised debate and then proposed a novel pre-convention poll of the public to determine which of theh Republican candidates would run better in November.

"I would welcome the taking of such a poll" Governor Rockefeller told Mr. Nixon and the Republican National guide to Republican delegates in either of two ways.

"First: We could take a wholly new and wholly complete Electoral Vote Survey—a survey of all 50 states. This woud make an accurate basis for testing of strength in terms of Electoral College votes. Or,

"Second: We could take a more limited poll of those states which include the great cities that have been cited in the past by Mr. Ray Bliss, Chairman of thhe Republican National Committee, as critical to Republican victory in the nation.

These states are: Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, and Missouri. I would be ready of course, to add to this list were it so desired, our largest state — California."

Governor Rockefeller's proposal was immediaely rejected by the Republican National Chairman and by Mr. Nixon, but the Governor's warm reception in two of the nation's iargest cities last week—San Francisco and New York — showed the extent of his popularity in the urban centers.

Social Security News

This newspaper presents this question and answer column about the Social Security program as a public service to our readers. The questions are those most frequently asked about Social Security. The answers are provided by Sumio Oto, El Cajon Social Security District Manager.

Q. My sister recently filed for her Social Security. She furnished the office her birth certificate and was told it would not be returned. Do they always keep birth certificates?

A. Yes. Most birth certificates are filed with state or county offices and you can easily obtain another one. However, Social Security does not keep documents that cannot be replaced.

A. Yes, she can. A person with a physical or mental impairment is eligible for cash benefits if he or she became disabled before reaching age 18, has been continuously disabled since that time, is single when benefits start, and is unable to perform substantial gainful work for pay.

Also, the person must be the son or daughter of a parent entitled to Social Security benefits or whose parent was insured at the time of deah. This is true even though the parents have been divorced. However, benefits can start only after an application has been filed.

Q. I work five days a week during the same hours that the social security office is open. Can I handle my claim for social security benefits and medicare through the mail?

A. Yes, however, the El Cajon Social Security Office is open until 7:30 p.m. on Wednesdays to accommodate people like you..

Q. I hear the term "benefit period" used in connection with Medicarre. What is a benefit period?

A. "Benefit period" is a period of time for measuring use of hospital insurance benefits. It begins when a beneficiary enters a hospital or an extended care facility. It ends when the beneficiary has not been a patient in any hospital or skilled nursing facility for 60 days in a row.

If you have further questions regarding the Social Security Law, contact or write the Social Security District Office, 570 North Second Street, El Cajon, California 92021.

Writers Club Turns Down Name Proposal

The La Mesa Writers Club at its July 9 meeting voted down a suggestion to change the name of the club.

The reason why the new name was turned down is that the organization is too well known as the La Mesa Writers Club and any change might cause confusion.

Mrs. Mary Giacinto, publicity chairman for the club's annual county-wide writing contest, reported over 100 original manuscripts had been submitted in the contest.

The manuscripts are now in the hands of the judges. Winners will be notified in August and awards presented at the annual "Tea" in September.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the Helix High School PTA and myself, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the staff of your newspaper for the fine news coverage given our school during this past year.

Without this publicity our activities could never have been so successful.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Jack Harris

Dear Editor:

California has an excellent gun control law; yet Senator Robert F. Kennedy was killed here! In California 46% of all murders are caused by guns, according to the F.B.I

Approximately the same situation exists in New York Passing more gun control laws is just studpid. Criminals can always buy or steal guns.

The simple obvious way to stop crime is to ban the Supreme Court decisions that eliminated punishment of crime and and that have tied the hands of the police.

The Federal Government should only pass a law making it illegal to ship firearms into a state in violation of the laws of that state.

The Constitution says the people have the right to bear arms and Congress has no business interfering with this right.

With all the riots and trouble brewing in this country, the people may need firearms very badly in the near future to protect their families and homes!

Sincerely,
C. C. Moseley

John Strub, foreign language teacher at Palm Junior High School in Lemon Grove, won a $2,500 study grant sponsored by the West German Federal Republic. This week he wrote:

Dear Editor:

Just a card to keep the "Newsblatt" informed. One important thing that impressed me about Bavaria is the wonderful chcildren, including teenagers, I encounter daily in the mainstream of life.

Respect, dignity and filial devotion are the outstanding characteristics of German youth today. They work hard, play hard; they eat good, and I dare say they sleep well.

I am certainly indebted to the West German Government for my grant to study.

Dear Editor:

The Spring Valley Firemen wish to express their sincere appreciation to the interested citizens that attended the June 27th meeting of the Board of Directors of the Spring Valley Fire District. At this meeting wage negotiations were discussed and we again tried to bring our salaries within reach of the scales paid to Firemen in neighboring communities.

Although we were unsuccessful in our negotiations your marvelous support was very heartwarming. We shall continue to put forth maximum effort so we may be worthy of your kind praise. Thank you.

Sports Beat

Auto sports car racing, dragsters, along with super stocks and modified stock cars are dominating the sports circle for area fans.

With school out of regular session, and organized area sports at the usual summer slow-down, auto racing can be seen at Cajon Speedway both Friday and Saturday night this week.

In San Diego, the Sports Car Club of America has set Saturday and Sunday as their days for national championship sports car racing.

Dragsters will go into their U.S. Pro Dragster Championships at the Lions Drag Strip Saturday night in Long Beach.

Toyota-Shelby Combine For San Diego Race

One of the most interesting and unique teams in Sports Car Club of America national racing has entered the San Diego Stadium Raceway national championship sports car races this weekend, July 20-21.

The team is a Toyota factory supported effort operated by Shelby Racing, one of the many racing-oriented enterprises owned by former international racing ggreat Carroll Shelby. Shelby developed the famous Cobra sports car that unseated Ferrari from domination of international sports car racing, and managed the Ford GTs that won the Le Mans 24-hour racce in both 1966 and 1967. He also developed the Mustang-derived Shelby GT 350 and GT 500 road cars.

The cars that will appear uunder Shelby's management at the Stadium Raceway are the still rare Toyota 2000 GTs. These beautifully styled GT coupes are powered by double overhead cam six cylinder 122 cubic inch engines that put out about 200 horsepower in racing tune. The Toyotas compete in t he tough C production class races against Porsches, Datsuns, Lotus Elans, Sunbeam Tigers, and Triumph TR-250s.

Veteran driver Scooter Patrick of Manhattan Beach is one of the two Toyota team drivers. This 36-year-old-garage owner started racing in 1956. In the last three years his career has rocketed. He has won virtually every race for cars with displacement of less than two liters that he has entered.

He was United States Road Racing Champion in the two-liter division in 1966 and 1967. Also in 1967 he won the under two liter "little Canadian-Amerian Challenge Cup" series of races for the Doug Revson Memorial Cup, despite starting only two out of the five races.

Grossmont Center Custom Car Show Opens

Barbara O'Connor, secretary of the Check Mate Car Club, has announced that the entry list for the Grossmont Center Custom Car Show, July 19-20 has been filled.

She said more than one hundred owners of hot rods, custom cars, motorcycles, boats, antiques and bicycles have submitted entries. The acceptance committee is now checking through the entry forms, viewing cars and carefully selecting the top fifty for the two day show.

Entries not acepted will be placed on standby and in case one fails to show, its stand-in car will beplace it. "In that way," she said, "the show will be kept completely filled with cars."

George Barris, King of the Customizers, has agreed to send from Hollywood the Munster coach of CBS-TV, Elvis Pressley's movie car, The Mongrel T. and a hippy movie car, Crazy Daisy.

The Custom Car Show will be set up on the mall of Grossmont Center, located on Highway 80 and Jackson dr., in La Mesa. The beauty of the cars, their futuristic designs and the imaginative innovations will blend with the trees, flowers and fountains of the mall in a truly mid-summer custom car pageant.

The show starts Friday at 10 a.m. and closes Saturday at 6 p.m. It is free and the public is invited. Miss O'Connor said, 'The theme of the show is 'Assistance on the Road' but it will also be interesting and educational, having something for every member of the amily.

The show is sanctioned by the National Custom Car Club Association.

Income Tax Relief Given GI War Dead

Families and relatives of GIs who have died in Vietnam frequetly call the Internal Revenue Service Office with questions about income tax liabilities for the war dead.

Any member of the Armed Forces who dies on active duty while serving in a combat zone has his taxes canceled: or, if already paid, refunded to his estate.

This applies whether the GI is killed in action or whether he dies as the result of wounds, disease, or injury which originated while he was on active duty in a combat zone.

Relief from paying income taxes applies to the entire year in which the death occurred. Relief also aplies to any pior year ending on or after the first day the deceased served in the combat zone.

If taxes have been paid, they are credited or refunded.

Since Jan. 1, 1964, both North and South Vietnam and the adjacent waters extending roughly 100 miles from both, have been officially designated as a combat zone.

Paychecks Smaller Starting This Week

If your pay check isn't as big as it was last week, don't blame your employer.

A new 10 percent surcharge is being made by the Internal Revenue Service effective on July 14.

The money will be used to cover mounting government expenditures. Some of these are the war in Vietnam, growing family of government employees, and federal welfare projects and foreign aid expenditures.

If you object, write your Congressman. Whether you squawk or not, there'll be a bigger bite taken from this week's paycheck.

Monte Vista Summer Baseball Team Falls To Trojans 6-2

by Scott McGaugh

The summer baseball team representing Monte Vista concluded its summer schedule last week by losing to the Castle Park Trojans, 6-2.

Once again lack of offense hurt the Monarchy although this time the pitching was knocked around. Paul Loop, started for Monte Vista bu had one of few poor appearances.

Bill McManaway and Don Scheerer did well at the plate with Doug Miller and Nathan Meckel turning in some excellent plays from the field.

The loss left the Monarcchs with a 4-11 record with one cancelled contest. The Monarch roundballers lost two more games recently giving them a 2-7 record thus far in their season schedule.

The Monarch's was humbled by a tall Helix Highlander squad last Wednesday, 67-29.

Helix boasted two men near Monte Vista's tallest man is six feet five inches while six feet three. Consequently the Monarchs were hurting for rebounds.

Mnte Vista was held to just one field goal and s ix free throws in the first half. Monte Vista then took on Hilltop Monday but lost once again, 48-41.

The Monarch's offense was spotty with poor play coming in the first and third quarters.

The Monarchy was down 21-10 nearing the end of the first half, but due to an excellent full-court press, the Monarchs scored ten straight points to close the gap to 21-20 at the half. Monte Vista was charged with 12 turnovers in the first half.

But Monte Vista's defense faltered in the third quarter although Monte Vista stayed close, 32-29, at the end of the third stanza.

Despite a comeback in the fourth quarter, Hilltop hung on for the 48-41 victory. Jim Bristol did a fine job in coming off the bench late in the game.

Roger Sommers had his usual good game and led the Monarchs in scoring with 12 points. Jim Bristol and Ernie Arroyo followed with eight apiece.

Dragsters To Race Saturday

Racing machinery valued at $2 million, including nearly every dragster in Southern California and some from as far away as Washington, Michigan, Oklahoma and Illinois, will be at Long Beach for the second annual U.S. Pro Dragster Championships at Lions Drag Strip on Saturday.

Included among drivers who will perform in the one-day drag meet are a selection from the "who's who" of hot rodding—Don Prudhomme, Chris Karamesines, Chuck "Ramcharger" Kurzawa, Jerry Ruth, James Warren, Bob Muravez, and Tony Nancy.

They will sign in beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday, and qualifying runs will start almost immediately. Since nearly 200 cars are pre-entered and only 96 spots are open in top fuel, gas and junior fuel classes, qualifying will continue throughout the day.

First round eliminations will be at 6 p.m., after a 5:30 opening ceremony. On hand for that will be actor James Garner, Hollywood's most celebrated racing buff, who will be grand marshall of the dragster parade.

Fuel dragster drivers will sort themselves into four separate 16-car elimination categories during qualifying, with the fastest 16 going for the top prize in theh $38,000 meet. Drivers of gaspowered machines will have a single 16-car starting field, as will the junior fuelers.

As if 90 match races between these smoke-belcheing monsters weren't enough for a show, promoter Doug Kruse has added a special exhibition by George Hutcheson in U.S. Turbine I, the controversial dragster which has a potential top speed of 250 mph

Tickets for the year's biggest event at Lions are on sale at the gate only on race day. Main entrance is just south of thhe San Diego Freeway at Alameda and 223rd sts. in the Los Angeles-Long Beach Harbor area.

Although San Salvador has twice been destroyed by earthquakes, its citizens have returned to rebuild the city.
